

MICHAEL O'MARA BOOKS CATALOGUE JULY – DECEMBER 2025

Michael O'Mara Books is a proudly independent publisher based in London. For over 40 years we have been cultivating a reputation that is nimble, strategic, and passionate, proving ourselves to be a powerful commercial force in publishing worldwide. We are dependent on the curiosity and creativity of our authors, illustrators, and employees to deliver an inspiring, trend-led list of titles that engages a broad readership. Across our three imprints we uphold a commitment to sustainability, implementing as many green policies and practices as possible in our publishing processes and working closely with charities that share our values.

At Michael O'Mara Books we specialize in creative and inspired adult non-fiction with authors ranging from Andrew Morton and Nicola Tallis to Marcus Chown and Simon Waterson. We are passionate about our books and publish an exciting and varied list – from history and popular science to language; sport and biography to puzzles; gift and humour to craft – that reaches readers across the world.

LOM ART is dedicated to showcasing the most talented artists from every corner of the globe. Our beautiful and contemporary artist-led books will unleash creativity in people of all ages across various disciplines. From Kerby Rosanes' mythical and quirky colouring books to gorgeously illustrated gift books, the list exhibits what's hot in the worlds of art and culture.

Our award-winning children's imprint Buster Books creates engaging books for curious young minds. Our list is home to out-of-this-world authors like Dr Maggie Aderin-Pocock, Mike Barfield and Gareth Moore and is brimming with titles to spark imagination and encourage exploration. The books will satisfy the keenest of puzzle masters, budding artists and the deepest of thinkers. Above all, they are to be enjoyed!

Buster Books is also the leading UK publisher of interactive LEGO® activity books through our partnership with Ameet Publishing. LEGO® has been recognized as the number one globally trusted brand by both adults and children and was recently named as the second biggest brand in the world, following Netflix.

Last but not least, Michael O'Mara Books also distributes books by the small but mighty independent children's fiction publisher Guppy Books. Set up in 2019 by award-winning publisher Bella Pearson, Guppy produces an eclectic, diverse and entertaining list of books for children from the age of five to eighteen.

WINSTON AND THE WINDSORS

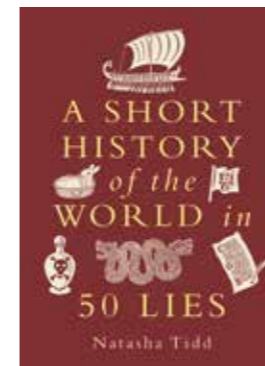

HOW CHURCHILL SHAPED A ROYAL DYNASTY

ANDREW MORTON

ISBN: 9781789297041
Trade paperback ISBN: 9781789297072 | £16.99
234x153mm | 400pp
16pp colour photographs | Hardback
UK and Commonwealth | £25 | Biography
Publication date: 09/10/25

Few figures have been so deeply and consequentially intertwined as the British royal family and Winston Spencer Churchill.

He helped to shape not just a single reign but an entire royal dynasty, while the House of Windsor was crucial in forging the legend of Churchill himself. There have been many biographies of Churchill and many volumes on the royal family, but none of these has yet charted the relationship between the two. Here, veteran biographer Andrew Morton presents a meticulously researched dual biography – it is drama of the highest order; at times thrilling and always compelling, this is the saga of a man, a family, a beloved institution and a regal dynasty, and how they shaped modern Britain.

A SHORT HISTORY OF THE WORLD IN 50 LIES

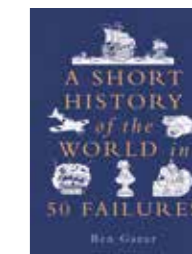

NATASHA TIDD

ISBN: 9781789297836
178x129mm | 288pp
B&W | Paperback
World | £9.99 | History
Publication date: 25/09/25

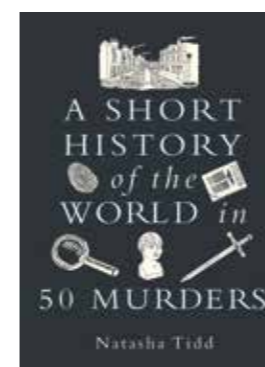

Discover the most impactful episodes in history, from the ancient world to the present day, told through 50 of the greatest lies ever told.

Taking readers on a global journey through human history, Natasha Tidd examines how lies can change the world around us, from Julius Caesar's deceptive PR machine to the cover-ups that caused Chernobyl. From the forgeries that created centuries' worth of conflict and domination, to mass political and press lying orders, readers will meet incredible people, such as Jeanne de Clisson, who became the fourteenth century's most feared pirate – all because of a lie. A Short History of the World in 50 Lies details the profound impact of this secretive side of history and shows that the truth really is stranger – and far more dangerous – than any fiction.

HOW TO DRAW CLASSIC CARTOONS

BILL NOLAN

Learn how to draw in the style of iconic 1920s rubber hose animator Bill Nolan, with this easy-to-follow guide.

How to Draw Classic Cartoons features original art by Bill Nolan, the influential American artist and director famed as the creator of the rubber hose style used to animate cartoons such as Felix the Cat, Betty Boop and Popeye.

Instantly recognisable from its curved lines and the elastic-like movements of its animated characters (hence the name ... 'rubber hose'), this distinctive art style can be easily recreated using simple circles as a starting point.

With original illustrations and words of advice from Nolan himself, this easy-to-follow book will teach you how to draw hands, feet, faces, full-body characters and a whole range of wacky animals.

Featuring elements from Nolan's 1936 book Cartooning Self-Taught, this new book takes a deeper look at his iconic style and how to recreate it.

"I'm going out, too," says Zoe. "We don't know what's out there. But we do know what's in here. And I don't want to be trapped with it."

You wonder if you should leave, too. The ship is comfortable and has plenty of food and drink. But you don't want to be stuck with a hostile life form who could attack at any point.

You still have all your camping equipment in your backpack, so maybe it would be better to find somewhere quiet on your own. But you know nothing about the island. There could be even greater dangers outside.

"This is ridiculous," says Clem. "Computer, put me through to the Space Agency. I'll soon sort this out."

"I CANNOT CONNECT FROM HERE," say the computer.

"Okay, so why don't we work something out between us?" asks Clem. "Maybe a trip back to the mainland for me while the others wait. No offence, but I mean a lot more to the Space Agency than the rest of the crew."

You hear the ramp on the side of the ship extending and Max clanging down it. Zoe gets up and follows him.

"I'm going to the cafeteria," says Seema. "Those who want to join me, can."

If you want to follow Seema to the cafeteria, go to page 20.

If you want to get your backpack and leave the ship, go to page 88.

11

Clem points his torch towards the opening of the tunnel.

The creature comes in. It's about the size of a Labrador, with light brown fur, large black eyes, and long, floppy ears.

It waddles towards you and makes a high yipping sound. You pull your arms back, worried that it will pull its jaws back to reveal razor-sharp teeth. But it just nuzzles your elbow, and makes a soft buzzing noise.

"What is it doing?" asks Clem in an uneven voice.

"I think it's purring," you say. "It's nothing to be afraid of, anyway. Let's see if Seema's gone yet."

You crawl back out of the tunnel, and look around. There's no sign of anyone. You have a chance to take Clem back to the ship.

You retrace your steps over the rocky ground, while Clem hangs back behind you.

"Look at all this," he says, brushing mud from his sleeves. "I want you to witness everything, because I'm going to sue the Space Agency as soon as we get back."

You enter a patch of trees with bright red leaves, and scan all the gaps between them. Seema is so fast she could reach you within seconds after appearing.

Go to page 142.

12

You race uphill. The pine trees clear away, and you find yourself scaling the rocky slope of the mountain.

You glance back, hoping the others have returned to their camp. But they're still chasing you. Max is at the front of the pack. He bends down, grabs a sharp stone, and throws it at you.

You leap aside, and it misses by a couple of inches.

The rocks get larger as you near the top of the mountain, and soon you're pulling yourself over heavy boulders. You look back to see if the others have given up, but they're still coming.

They seem to be coping with the huge rocks better than you. It's not surprising. You've had nothing to eat or drink for hours now. If they were thinking straight, they see you haven't gained any speed or strength.

You reach the highest rocks. You clamber onto one, and peer over. Your stomach lurches. It's a sheer drop to sharp, jagged stones far below. If you go on, you'll plunge to your death.

You back away so quickly you push the rock forward, and it tumbles down the drop in an avalanche of shale.

You turn around. You have no choice but to face the others.

Turn to page 71.

You scabble back up the jagged rocks to the top of the ridge. You have to slow down to avoid twisting your ankles on the uneven rocks.

You just want to get back to the ship now. It was a mistake to come out here. Seema must have got around the island much quicker than you expected. For all you know, she could have transformed everyone except Clem.

You glance over your shoulder. Aki is gaining on you. He's sprinting over the wobbly rocks with ease.

You try to race ahead, but the terrain is too difficult. He grabs the back of your shoe and pulls you down the slope.

He turns you around, and you see that his pupils have turned into thin black slits. He blinks, and then blinks again with a second pair of eyelids.

"Told you we were fast," he says. "And strong."

He forces his clammy hand onto your forehead, and you can feel tentacles sucking your skin.

You grab at the soil beneath you, trying to pull yourself free, but it's no use. Aki is too powerful.

But then everything flips. You stop struggling. You realize that Aki is helping you. You'll be faster and stronger now, just like he is.

A minute later, you're back on your feet. You can feel new energy racing through your body.

It's time to look for the others again. Only now you don't want to warn them. You want to transform them, too.
